

How your referral is tracked

You share free wound-care guides. Epithrive sends every message, gives the family their discount and connects each order back to you. You never sell, quote a price or follow up.

✓ You share free guides

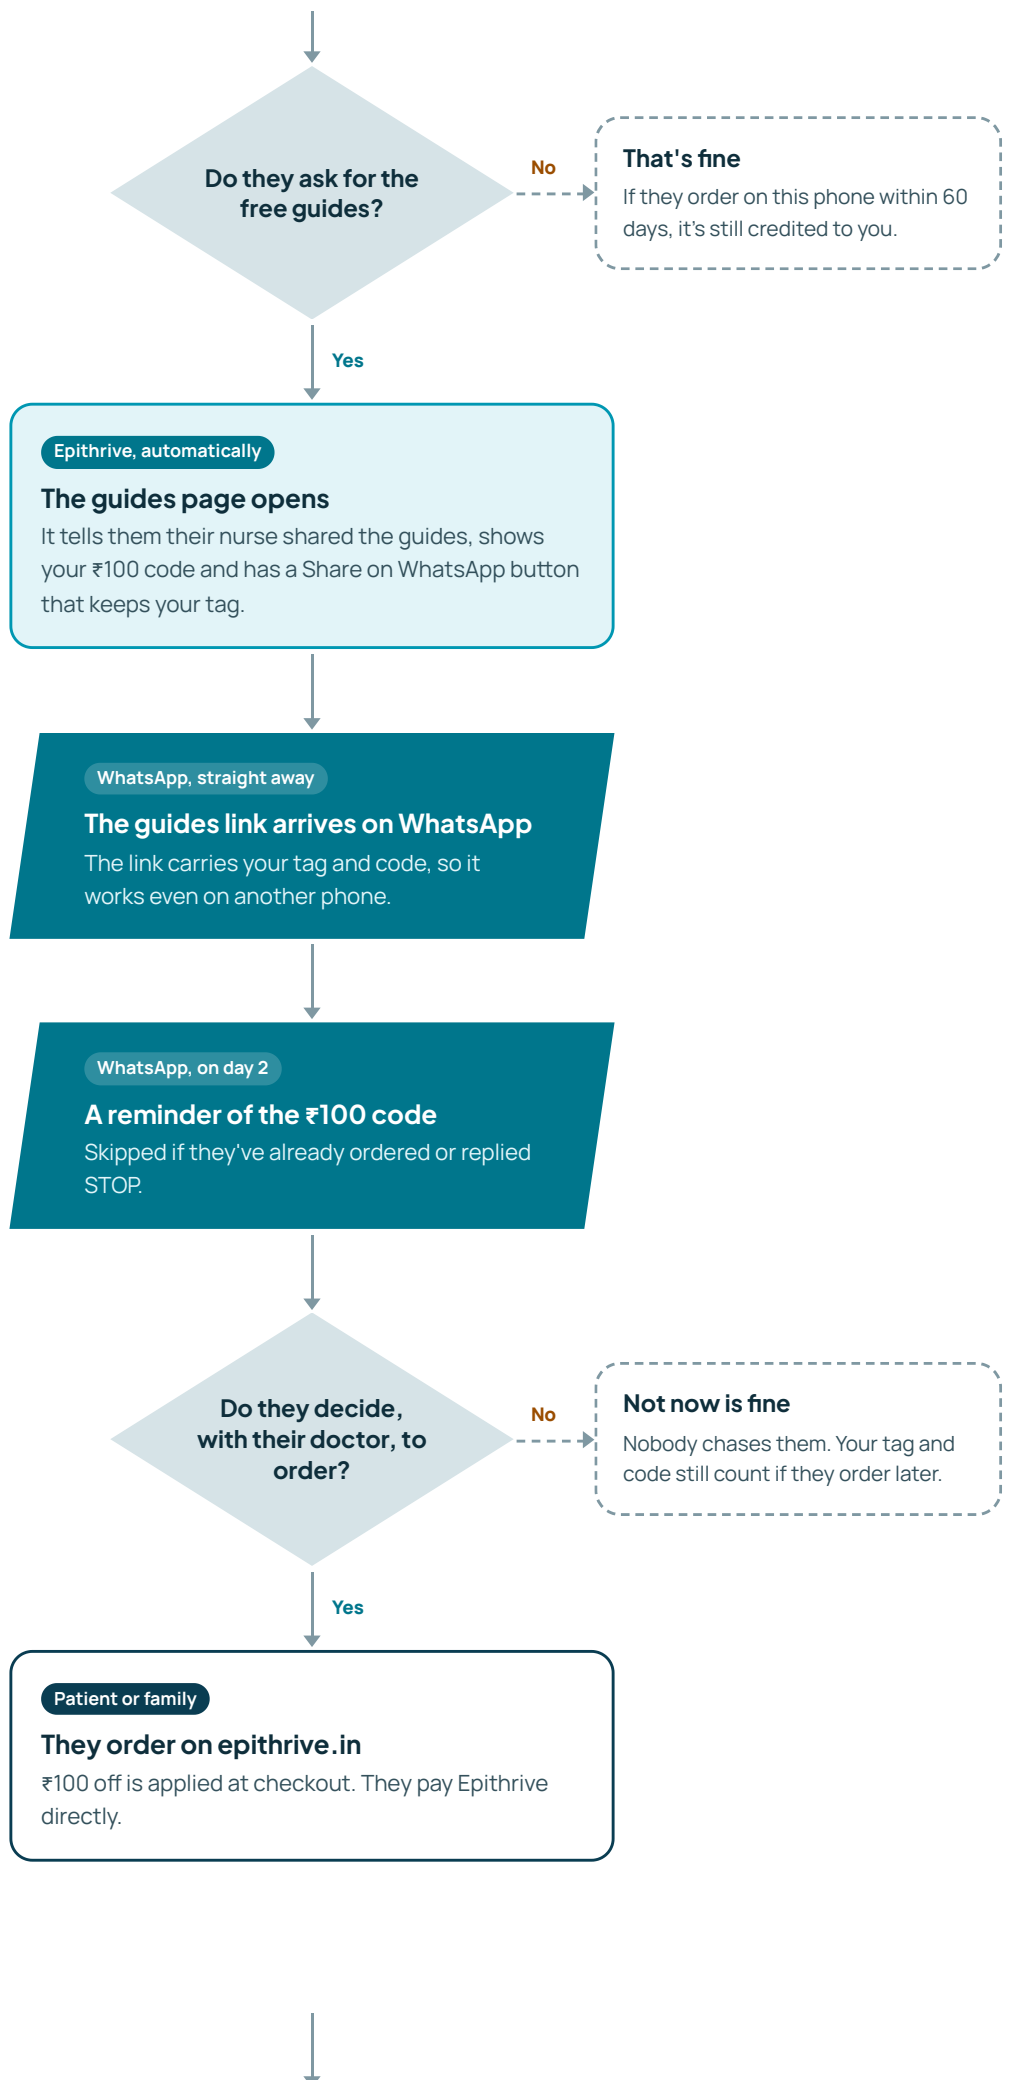

✓ Families decide with their doctor

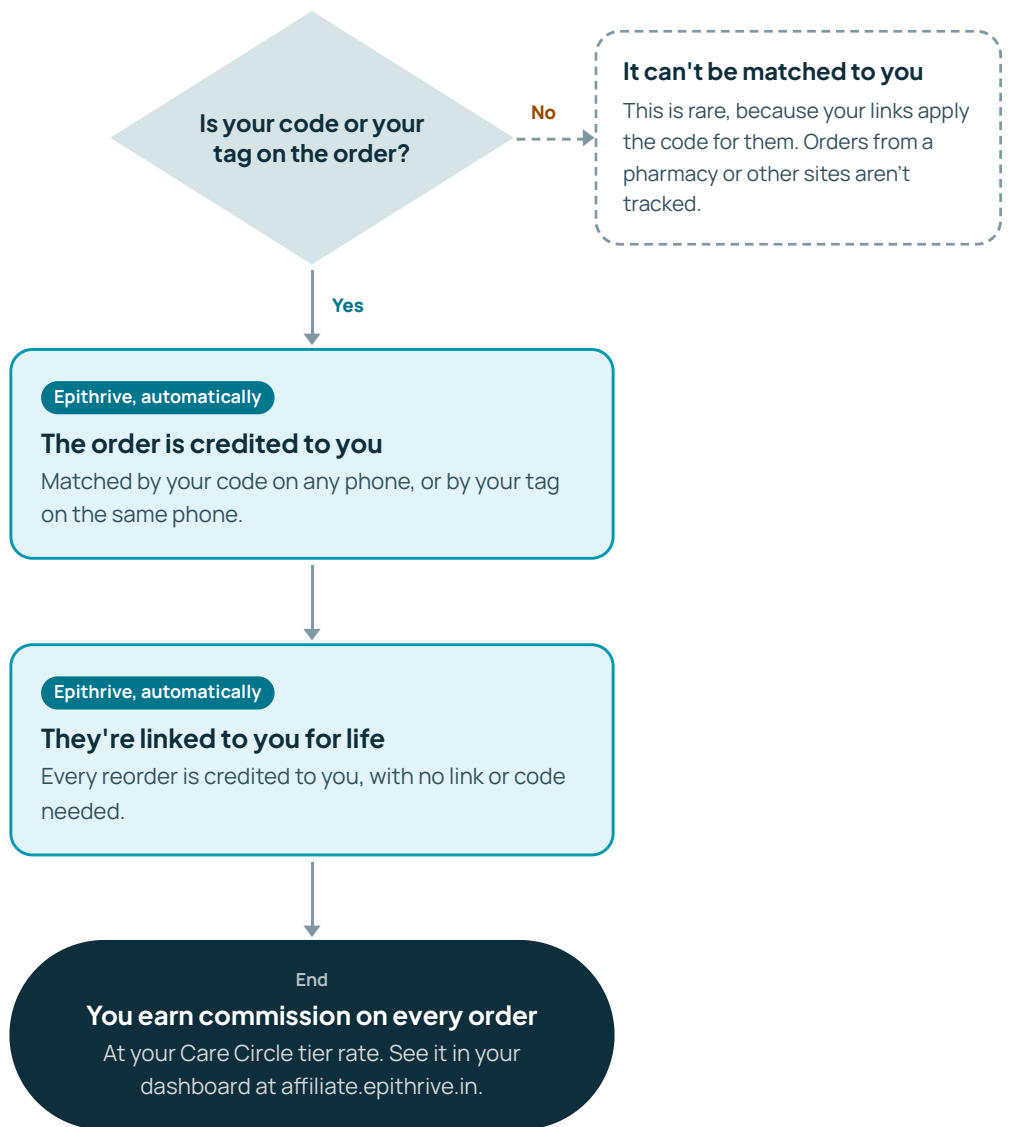

✓ Every order through you is credited

The full journey, step by step

Follow the arrows from top to bottom. Diamonds are the moments where the family chooses; each "No" path shows what happens then.

Three things connect an order to you

Each one covers a gap the others can leave, so most orders are matched more than once.

60 days

Your referral tag

Saved when someone opens your link. It lasts 60 days on that phone and browser. If they open another Care Circle member's link before ordering, the newer link takes over.

₹100 off

Your code

Gives the family ₹100 off and credits you on any phone, at any time, even if the tag is lost. Your links apply it for them automatically.

For life

The lifetime link

After their first order through you, every future order from that customer is yours. No link or code is needed again.

When families pass it on

Families often forward things to relatives on WhatsApp. Here's what keeps your credit, and what doesn't.

They forward your WhatsApp message

Your link goes with it, so the relative gets your tag when they open it.

✓ Credited to you

They send a photo of your QR card

Scanning the photo opens your link, exactly like scanning the card.

✓ Credited to you

They tap Share on WhatsApp on the guides page

The shared link includes your tag and code. The relative sees that a nurse shared the guides, with the ₹100 code ready.

✓ Credited to you

They forward Epithrive's guides message

The link in that message carries your tag and code too.

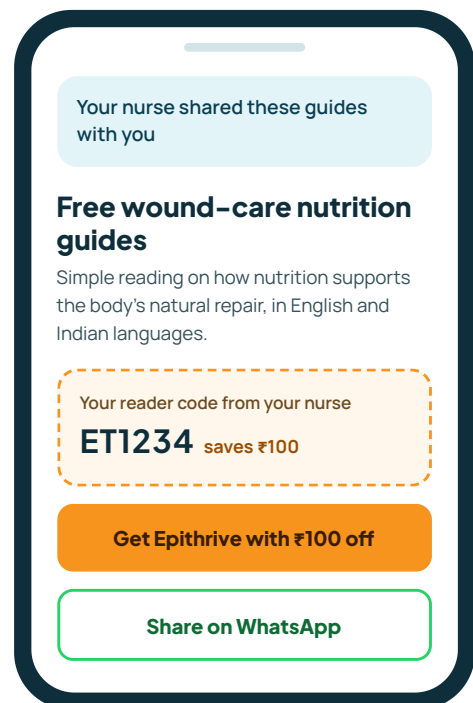

✓ Credited to you

They pass on the ₹100 code

When it's used at checkout, the order is yours on any phone, and that customer is linked to you for future orders.

✓ Credited to you

What a family sees when they open your link. Simplified; the code shown is an example.

They copy the guides page address

It carries your code when they opened the page from your link.
The Share on WhatsApp button is the sure way.

✓ Usually credited

They share a single article or the shop's own link

Article pages and a plain epithrive.in link don't know who referred the reader.

☐ Only if your code is used

The simplest habit: ask families to forward your message or use the Share button

Your link, your QR card, the guides page's Share button and Epithrive's guides message all carry your tag. Anything else only counts if your ₹100 code is used.

What to say

You're sharing free information. The family and their doctor make the decision.

✓ Good to say

- "These free guides explain how nutrition supports the body's repair."
- "Please ask your doctor whether it suits you."
- "I'm part of Epithrive's Care Circle, so I share their guides."

✗ Please avoid

- Saying it heals, cures or treats a wound
- Promising results or a healing time
- Quoting prices or offering discounts yourself
- Suggesting it replaces their wound care or medicines

Questions

Where do I see my orders and commission?

In your dashboard at affiliate.epithrive.in. Add your payout method there so Epithrive can pay you.

I've lost my link or QR card. What do I do?

Open your personal kit page from your welcome message on WhatsApp, or go to training.epithrive.in/welcome and open your kit from there. It rebuilds your link, your QR card and ready-made messages.

A family wants the messages to stop.

They can reply STOP to any Epithrive message. Nothing more is sent after that.

What if they buy from a pharmacy or another website?

Only orders on epithrive.in are tracked. Your links send families there, so most orders through you land in the right place.

What if they open another nurse's link later?

Before their first order, the newest link they opened takes over the 60-day tag. That's one more reason the ₹100 code matters: it identifies you whenever it's used.
